

Agiloft Contract Assistant for Word

Agiloft is available as an add-in for Microsoft Word, which allows you to import and export data between your KB and a .docx document.

The app was created to create, draft, import, negotiate, and analyze text in contract documents. Once deployed, the Agiloft icon appears on the far right side of the ribbon in Word.

You can accomplish a lot with the Word app, such as:

- Create new contracts and document templates, as well as edit them.
- Tag clauses and key terms in a contract, and send them to your KB as records or field values. If you have AI enabled, this can be possible with the push of a button.
- Add vetted clauses from your KB to the contract document.
- Import exemplary clauses from a document into your clause library to use in other documents.